Meat Report Discussed at Cabinet Meeting.

THE NEW YORK JUDGESHIP

Still Believed to Be Between Hough and Chatfield.

A NOTED CATHOLIC PRIEST

Father Conrady, Successor to Father Damien in Charge of Lepers Colony, Received.

Cabinet members, on assembling for the regular session today, discussed with interest the meat-packing report sent to Congress yesterday, and approved the course of the President. Without exception they feel that Congress ought to pass the most stringent sort of a law for the inspection of stock, hogs and meat. Secretary Wilson has been foremost in advocacy of this course.

Secretary Bonaparte, after the cabinet meeting, said that the Maryland appointments, which are of much interest in that state, would not be made for ten days or so. The President, he said, had postponed for consideration until the cabinet meeting of June 15, when he will take them up with the Secretary of the Navy. The President, it is stated, has not definitely determined whether he will make Charles M. Hough judge of the southern district of New York because of objections to Mr. Hough as a corporation lawyer. He has, however, the name of Mr. Secretary Wilson under consideration and regards him as an able man. The fact, though, that Mr. Hough is considered a firm of lawyers that has long represented the Pennsylvania railroad is a serious objection to him, even though he has the backing of Representative Parsons and Senator Bacon, both former republican county chairman of New York county.

The New York Judgeship.

It is said that in the event Mr. Hough cannot be appointed Representative Parsons shows an inclination to support Stephen M. Olin, who is favorably known to the President. Besides the fact that Mr. Olin might not accept the position is the fact that he is beyond the age the President has set for judicial appointments. This eliminates him from the race. Representative Olin, who is now back of Hough as a favor to Parsons, will support R. K. Parsons in the event Hough cannot be named.

Many New York men say that the best qualified candidate for the judgeship is Thomas I. Chatfield, assistant United States attorney of the present eastern district. The suggestion brought out to Chatfield is that he lives in Brooklyn, while the new judgeship is for Manhattan. Chatfield, however, has been in New York and has most of his business there. It is said by those supporting him. As the new judgeship has been provided for to handle criminal business and to handle criminal business, Chatfield's qualifications are considered of the best. If the President followed his suggestion, it would be a great boon to the department because of the fact that Chatfield is still between Hough and Chatfield, despite the new entries.

A Noted Catholic Priest.

Rev. L. L. Conrady, the companion and successor of Father Damien, who for many years had charge of the leper settlement at Molokai, in the Hawaiian Islands, was presented to the President today by Rev. P. Doyle, head of the Paulist Mission House at the Catholic University. Father Conrady has served humanity and his church in many parts of the world. He was a leper in the Hawaiian Islands, and finally, after being in various parts of the world in religious and philanthropic work, he came to the Hawaiian Islands. He was practically alone in the care of the lepers. He buried Father Damien and succeeded him as head of the leper settlement. When he left Molokai there were 300 lepers in the settlement. His experience in the work induced the Catholic Church to send him to the Hawaiian Islands, there to look after the lepers. In Canton and vicinity there are approximately 25,000 lepers. This is not a leper settlement, and practically have nobody now to care for them. They are ostracized by their people and even their relatives have nothing to do with them. It sometimes happens, when a member of a family is stricken with leprosy, that the stricken one is buried alive in the belief that such a death will prevent the spread of the disease in the family. Father Conrady now is engaged in raising a fund to support 300 Chinese lepers, three sisters and himself. He hopes to obtain a fund that will yield him $100,000 a year. He expects to make the lepers on 25c a day each, their principal food being rice. Eventually, some land may be acquired on which the lepers may raise a little corn and vegetables. The President manifested deep interest in the work of Father Conrady.

St. Andrew's Social City.

President Roosevelt yesterday afternoon received fifteen officers and "citizens" of the St. Andrew's Social City of Richmond, Va. The officers and citizens are young boys who, in an institution, are being taught the principles of municipal government. Those who called on the President are the mayor and other officers and members of the council of the social city, which is conducted by the boys themselves. In the institution in which the model little city is maintained there are fourteen hundred students in the day and night classes. The officers are elected by the student body. The delegation was called on the President was presented by J. D. Shannon, physical director of St. Andrew's School. The President received the boys cordially and extended his best wishes for the success of their unique work. The boys will remain in Washington for two days studying the methods of government on a large scale.

Representative Huff Renominated.

Representative George H. Huff of the sixth Pennsylvania district received word last night that he had been renominated for a fifth term in the House. In addition to renomination to Congress the nine delegates to the state convention from Westmoreland, his home county, were instructed to vote for Col. Huff for governor, although he is not a candidate for the office.

DEATH OF J. C. NEW

Died at His Home in Indianapolis Yesterday.

AFTER ILLNESS OF A YEAR

Distinguished in Political Life of the Country.

A NOTED REPUBLICAN LEADER

Newspaper Owner and Former Indiana Party Boss, and Treasurer of the United States.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 5.—John C. New died at his home here yesterday afternoon of dropsy. Around his bedside were his wife, his son, Harry S. New, vice chairman of the republican national committee, and his daughter, Mrs. Ernest H. Burford of this city. Another daughter, Mrs. W. R. McKean, Jr., is en route here from her home at Omaha, Neb.

Mr. New was for many years proprietor of the Indianapolis News and was a lifelong friend of former President Benjamin Harrison. He had been sick for a year.

The Indiana colony in Washington received with deep regret the news of the death of John C. New. With him passed from the political history of Indiana one of the most notable republican personalities. The associate of Harrison and the old-line republican Mr. New was identified with the upbuilding of the republican party in that state in its organization. In recent years he has not been so closely identified with politics, although every great republican politician in the state is thoroughly conversant with the importance of the Indiana colony.

Mr. New was born in Indiana in 1831. He was quartermaster general of the state in 1860, and after that he was engaged in banking. All the time he took great interest in politics, which was accentuated by his ownership of the Indianapolis News, which for half a century was the republican organ of Indiana.

In 1875 President Grant appointed Mr. New to be treasurer of the United States. In 1882 President Arthur appointed him as assistant secretary of the treasury. In 1889 President Harrison gave him the post of consul general in London.

In the interim of these terms of public service Mr. New maintained his grasp on politics and served many times as chairman of the republican national committee, following the management of republican campaigns, both state and national. His son, Harry S. New, is at this time acting chairman of the national committee, following in the footsteps of his father in arduous work for the republican party.

Representative Watson of Indiana, the republican whip of the House, said today: "Ever since I was a boy I have known of John C. New and of his work for the republican party. At one time he was one of the strongest men in the republican party in Indiana. He maintained his position not only on the strength of a personal personality but on account of his ownership of the Indianapolis News, one of the most influential republican organs of the middle west." Gen. Geo. B. Williams, one of the prominent Indiana men, now a resident of Washington, said today: "I have known of John C. New since I was a boy, and in many years have been conversant with his work in politics. He was one of the most notable politicians Indiana has produced. He was a man of character, and his life was strong with his fellowmen was his devotion to his friends. I have never known an instance of John C. New deserving his friends."

VERDICT SUSTAINING WILL

Outcome of Contest Over Hannah Jaeger's Estate.

A verdict sustaining the will of Hannah Jaeger has been rendered by a jury in the Probate Court, in the contest over the estate of the testatrix, the case having been on trial before Justice Barrett for two days. The verdict was directed by the court upon motion of Attorney Wilton J. Lambert, counsel for Mr. Jaeger, the beneficiary under the will.

Mrs. Jaeger died May 6, 1906, after having been in the Sibley Hospital for two weeks prior thereto. She left a will dated April 21, 1905, by the terms of which all her real and personal property was left to her husband, Frank Jaeger. A contest was filed by the mother of the deceased, Mrs. Christina Kuitz, and by her daughter, Mary Jaeger, a sister of the deceased, through Attorney Edward L. Gies.

Undue influence and lack of testamentary capacity were alleged in the caveat. A considerable quantity of testimony was taken during the progress of the case, at the conclusion of which an appeal from the ruling of the court was noted by the caveators.

The property involved is estimated to be about $200,000. A large part of this consists of money left by the father of the deceased.

CROWDS AT LUNA PARK.

Opening of Second Week at New Pleasure Resort.

It is estimated that fully 12,000 persons passed through the gates at Luna Park last evening, the opening night of the second week of the new resort. During the day there were fully 16,000 persons on the grounds. Philippi with his Spanish band has possession of the bandstand and Oscar and Helma Norin, high divers, the hippodrome stage. Philippi played two popular acoustic concerts yesterday afternoon and evening.

The sensation of the week at the park is Norin, who, last evening, dressed in a blazing suit of paper, leaped into a three-foot tank of water, the surface of which was a sheet of flame from an ignited coat of oil. First Norin and his wife made several dives from both the seventy-foot and thirty-five-foot platforms of the big towers. For the finale Norin climbed to the middle platform, where his wife was waiting for him with the paper suit. He donned it, and shouted the words of the song, "I'm a fireman in the water, whipping the flames out with his hands."

Telegram has been received by Manager Gill announcing that the accident to the Knabenshue airship in Cleveland will not affect plans for the appearance of Roy Knabenshue at the park June 12 to 13.

ASSOCIATION OF EX-SLAVES.

Delegates Here in Attendance on Annual Convention.

Rev. L. E. B. Rosser, pastor of the Miles Memorial Church, 3d street, near New York avenue, delivered the address of welcome last evening to the delegates in attendance at the annual convention of the Ex-Slave Mutual Bounty and Pension Association of the United States, which is holding its sessions in the church. A. W. Scott of this city also delivered an address. The list of those who spoke included the names of Rev. R. E. Gilchrist and A. W. Rogers of Newbern, N. C.

The business transaction during the day was the advancement of a petition to Congress to secure a pension for aged and needy slaves. In the call for the convention the statement was made that "the colored people who served their best days in slavery should not be left to die in slavery. They gave the south 246 years of labor, for which they received not one dollar, one cent. The pensioning of the ex-slaves would help to refill the depleted treasury of the south, made so by the ravages of war."

Some of the delegates in attendance included A. W. Rogers, R. E. Gilchrist, Parker Morton, A. J. Shields, A. J. Franklin, Robert Smith, J. W. Gooden, H. E. Bates, A. C. Stott, M. E. Matthews, S. A. Sutton, S. B. Gilchrist, R. J. Monroe and Salisbury Brooks, G. F. White, W. H. Mathews and J. A. Carter.

WILL MAKE SOME REMARKS.

Senator Morgan May Make Some Gentlemen Take Notice.

Failure to secure a quorum again caused an adjournment for a week of the examination of William Nelson Cromwell of New York before the senate committee on privileges and elections. Senator Morgan declined to proceed without a quorum and remarked that if the members of the committee would not attend the Senate should appoint men who would.

Enforcing his motion for the adjournment he proposed to make some remarks on conditions in the Senate which would "make some gentlemen put on their studying caps."

Lightening the Peso.

The House committee on insular affairs today authorized a favorable report on a Senate bill reducing from nine-tenths to seven-tenths the fineness of the Philippine peso. This is to be done because the peso is found to be more valuable in its present fineness for bullion than for money, and it is difficult to keep them in circulation in the islands.

Feel Right When You Feed Right

You know one always feels very fit when the head and nerves swing along peacefully and with that certain sense of power that is unmistakable.

But when overwork or anxiety breaks down the soft gray matter in the brain and nerve cells (anxiety will do it quicker than overwork) faster than the food you have been using replaces it, then to save yourself from that horror of darkness, nervous prostration, you must change food, and take on some sure rebuilders.

That's the mission of Grape-Nuts, made of selected parts of Wheat and Barley, containing the natural Phosphate of Potash which combines with albumen in the human body and makes the soft gray filling of the brain and nerve centers. In making Grape-Nuts the starchy parts of the field grains are converted into a form of sugar exactly as in the process of digestion in the body. So Grape-Nuts has really passed the first act of digestion and therefore the food is quickly assimilated in the most perfect manner by babe or athlete.

There's a Reason.

KINDERGARTEN WORK.

Mrs. Murray Complimented by Speakers at Meeting.

Representative Foster of Vermont, and Representative Cushman of Washington, made brief addresses last evening before the meeting held in Lincoln Memorial Church, corner 11th and R streets, in eulogy of services rendered by Mrs. Anna E. Murray in the kindergarten movement among the colored children of this city.

Representative Foster after complimenting Mrs. Murray spoke regarding the Foster school bill, which he declared will doubtless be enacted. Representative Cushman mentioned the advancement of the school facilities of the District of Columbia.

Mrs. Murray made a brief address after she had been presented with a large statue of Minerva by the colored kindergarten teachers of the District.

Mrs. Gitterman of the Public Educational Association, also delivered an address speaking of the good that had been accomplished by Mrs. Murray in the kindergarten movement. Mrs. Gitterman, a graduate of Harvard, who formerly occupied a chair in a university in the south and who has lately resided in Russia, discussed the progress of the education of the colored race in this country. He compared the conditions in this country to those in Russia and commented upon the fact that the conditions were far better here than in the land of the czar. During the evening music was furnished by a quartet of young women.

STREET IN BAD CONDITION.

Chief Belt Reports Impediment to Fire Engines.

Report was made to the Commissioners today by Chief Belt of the fire department to the effect that 9th street and K street southeast, in the vicinity of the quarters of engine company 18, were in such bad condition that the company was always handicapped in responding quickly to alarms of fire. The chief's statement was based upon a letter written to him by Lieutenant J. H. Virstniet, commanding No. 18 company, who spoke of one occasion when the two horses drawing the engine were unable to get the apparatus through what he described as a "sea of mud" in front of the company's quarters. The matter was referred to the engineer department.

SELECTING SUPPLIES.

G. P. O. Officials Awarding Contracts for Fiscal Year.

A committee, composed of the chief clerk, chief inspector, foreman of printing and foreman of binding, has been engaged for several days in viewing the samples submitted by bidders for supplies for the government printing office for the next fiscal year. Thousands of separate items are included in the supplies required at the big printery for a year's work, and while there are several samples of every item the competition is so keen on a few of the more generally used articles that the committee will be compelled to spend several days before the awards are all made.

Not even the chief clerk knows the identity of the various samples submitted, the designation being by means of a number corresponding with the name-record kept by Storck & Co., the printer of the samples. The price of the paper used at the government printing office was contracted for the first of the year, deliveries beginning the 1st of March. Contractors for the use of the government printing office were awarded by the joint committee on printing of the Senate and House. The price of book printing paper is understood to be about 10 per cent cheaper this year than the rates of last year's contracts. The estimates were for, approximately, the same amount of paper as last year.

Much regret was expressed among the employees of the big printery at the death of Senator Gorman, his position on the Senate committee on printing bringing him in contact with many of the officials and employees of the office.
